

A comprehensive early literacy curriculum for emergent learners, in Pre-K through Grade 2+, designed to help students on the road to literacy including learners who may need special education services. The instructional materials, teaching tutorials, custom videos, and leveled books are time saving for educators, elevate instructional practice and are drawn from Erickson & Koppenhaver's Comprehensive Literacy for All: Teaching Students with Significant Disabilities to Read and Write (2019).

Aligned with Science of Reading!

What's Included:

Alphabet and Phonics Learning

Learning Letters, Learning Letters Plus aims to nurture phonemic awareness, improve reading readiness, and develop essential early literacy skills for young learners using engaging and interactive methods on the ReadtopiaGO platform.

Morning Message

Dive into the realm of special education Morning Messages – where inclusivity, engagement, and growth intertwine. This daily practice takes center stage within the ReadtopiaGO platform, irrespective of its alignment within the literacy teaching cycle.

Predictable Chart Writing

Predictable Chart Writing holds a significant role within the ReadtopiaGO instructional cycle. This five-step activity not only adds an element of enjoyment but also ensures inclusivity for learners of varying skill levels.

Independent Writing

From initial scribbles to mastery, our platform empowers learners to convey their ideas, thoughts, and stories effectively. Dive into a world where imagination thrives and independent writing skills flourish.

Learning with Puppets

Learners will be introduced to essential themes and vocabulary through our prominent puppet character, Geartrude, within the ReadtopiaGO platform. Geartrude's enchanting stories and engaging songs foster a strong sense of learning community by involving the entire class.

Self-Directed Reading

Incorporating self-directed reading into your routine empowers learners with the freedom to choose their reading materials and explore independently. This practice not only reinforces the fundamental purpose of reading – uncovering novel insights – but also adds an element of enjoyment to the process.

Shared Reading

Shared reading emerges as a powerful tool for educator-learner interactions during joint reading sessions. The overarching goal is to foster active engagement, enjoyment, and participation in the reading experience.

Suggested Activity Centers

With ReadtopiaGO, you'll unlock a treasure trove of rotating activity center ideas, creating avenues for learners to delve into new concepts, grasp how the world operates, understand their bodies, and cultivate crucial communication and social skills.

Why ReadtopiaGO?

The program's design ensures that students' progress is measurable and tangible, fostering a learning environment that is focused, effective, and aligned with educational objectives. With ReadtopiaGO, educators and learners alike can confidently track their progress, engage with targeted content, and achieve explicit outcomes that promote literacy development and learning success.
